TEXTBOOK INFORMATION FOR THE 2015-2016 ACADEMIC YEAR

ART HISTORY AND FOUNDATIONS OF VERBAL COMMUNICATIONS

AH 105 Western Art I (Fall) and AH 106 Western Art II (Spring):

FVC 101 and 101-B Foundations of Verbal Communication I (Fall) and FVC 102 and 102-B Foundations of Verbal Communications II (Spring):

WHERE CAN I BUY MY TEXTBOOKS?

Your textbooks can be found at Franklin & Marshall bookstore, located in Distler House at 561 Old Main Drive, (please be aware that these books may not be in stock until mid- to late August) or via online sources such as Amazon. Winding Way Bookstore on Chestnut Street, just across from PCA&D, usually tries to have a few used copies available for purchase as well.

Purchasing the assigned edition number and, in the case of your FVC textbook, the exact ISBN is critical. Content can vary from edition to edition and you need access to MyWritingLab, which comes only with the assigned ISBN. Please be aware that these books, especially the Art History textbook by Stokstad, are pricey; however, you will use your FVC textbook over 2 semesters and your AH textbooks over 3 semesters.

FIRST DAY OF CLASSES

For the first day of classes, please bring Writing to your FVC 101 or 101-B. You are not required to bring your textbooks to AH 105; instead, please bring a notebook (we recommend a composition book or spiral-bound notebook) that is reserved for ONLY AH 105 notes, a folder or binder for additional papers, and a writing utensil to AH 105.

QUESTIONS?

If you have any questions, please Dr. Jessica Sponsler at jsponsler@pcad.edu or Dean Jessica Edonick at jedonick@pcad.edu.
