

Work by Tyler Handa '23, Graphic Design.

Upcoming Events

Now Death & Rebirth, in the Hayden Gallery (see below)

Now Inspired By, in the CoLab and Landing (see below)

Jan. 12 New Student Move-in

Subscribe to our email list.

Jan. 12 Virtual Spring Preview, 6-7:30 pm (see below)

Jan. 13-15 Returning student check-ins

Jan. 16 Closed for Martin Luther King Jr. holiday

Jan. 17 First day of Spring semester classes

Jan. 17 Opening of Arte de La Borinqueña, Main Gallery, 5-8 pm (see below)

Through Jan. 31 Anthology photography exhibition, Photo Hallway Gallery (see below)

Feb. 1 Vaccine Clinic

If you have news, an event, or an announcement you'd like to share, please email Jen Kopf, at jkopf@pcad.edu.

This Thursday: Student Spring Preview

Spring Preview for all returning students will be a virtual event on Thursday, Jan. 12, from 6-7:30 pm. Join us and learn about the Academic and Studio support programming, Learning Commons, Career Services, The Agency, and get words of advice on how to best be prepared to make the most of the semester ahead. Invitation to Spring Preview coming soon!

RAVE alerts

We know it's been in the 50s outside here in Lancaster, but just remember: It is January, and snow and ice are likely at some point! The College works with RAVE Mobile Safety as an emergency alert system to your email and phone and is one of the ways the College communicates in case campus opening is delayed or campus is closed for bad weather. Be on the lookout next week for an email from the College with further instructions that will allow you to verify you're already signed up for RAVE alerts or to sign up for this critical service.

La Borinqueña, by Edgardo Miranda-Rodriguez

Next in the Main Gallery: Arte de La Borinqueña

PCA&D is excited to welcome Arte de La Borinqueña, the work of Edgardo Miranda-Rodriguez, with an opening reception on Tuesday, Jan. 17, from 5-8 pm in the Main Gallery with music, Bomba dancing, and more.

Miranda-Rodriguez is the creator of Puerto Rican superhero La Borinqueña, whose serialized comic amplifies and highlights the importance of telling stories about Puerto Rico's history, exploring present-day social issues and environmental issues, and celebrating the diversity of the Puerto Rican diaspora. La Borinqueña has become a real-life superhero, too, with a suite of graphic novels; a special anthology, Ricanstruction, benefiting grassroots organizations on the islands of Puerto Rico post-Hurricane Maria; partnerships with DC Comics, Chocolate Cortés, the Natural Resources Defense Council; and more.

A full slate of events for both the College community and beyond is planned for the duration of Arte de La Borinqueña, which will be held in the College's Main Gallery through March 10. Stay tuned for more details!

Now in the CoLab: Inspired By, from AHIS110 students

Artworks by Foundation students in Art History 110 are now on display in the CoLab and Landing in Inspired By. For their final projects, each student or group of students was tasked with researching an artist that inspires them, creating a mini exhibition of that style, application, media, or subject matter. Don't miss walking through these spaces when you're back on campus to experience Inspired By.

Subscribe to our email list.

Acrylic on illustration board, "My Portrait," by Ahmyah Little, inspired by Tamara de Lempicka.

PHV juniors debut exhibition, through Jan. 31

Photography & Video juniors in Jill Sherman's Advanced Digital Photography class present Anthology, an exhibition in the PHV Hallway Gallery, through Jan. 31. Featured is the work of Hannah Aust, Jenna Cervone, Kiri Chhun, Leona Hatch, Alexander Smith, and Cameren White. Don't miss stopping by once you're back on campus!

"Agony," by Kelby M. Weaver '24, oil on found panel.

Now in the Hayden Gallery: Death & Rebirth

A new show has been mounted in the Hayden Gallery next to the Atrium. Death & Rebirth, curated by Randall Lear '11 and Joe Palumbo '08, features the work of PCA&D students called to explore the cyclical nature of life as seasons change and as preparations are underway for a new year and new semester.

Artworks on view are by Oakley Buscarino '26; Olivia Koziel '23, Photography & Video; Ava Morgan '26; Faith Poehner '25, Illustration; Rachel Rae '23, Photography & Video; Faith Stiffey '23, Fine Art; and Kelby M. Weaver '24, Illustration.

Art Market interest survey

Are you a fan of PCA&D Art Markets? Would you like to take part? Check out the survey below. Organizers will look through the survey for interest checks/signups for vendors and get back to the people chosen for art markets. You'll be asked to state your major, what you plan to sell if chosen, to share your social media or portfolios, and if you'd like to share table space with anyone else (if so, please make sure your table partner fills out the interest survey, too!). Get your name on the list today!

Vaccine clinic coming to PCA&D in February

Looking for a place to get your flu vaccine or a Covid booster? Get Feb. 1 on your calendar. That Wednesday, Student Life will be holding a vaccine event from 11 am to 1 pm, sponsored by Union Community Center. Stay tuned closer to the date for a signup sheet and more info.

This week in the art world: new Nazca Lines discovered

A team of archaeologists from Yamagata University has discovered a new collection of 168 Nazca Lines in the deserts of southern Peru. These drawings are often monumental in scale and dot the Peruvian landscape, and many are only visible from the air. Known as geoglyphs, the largest measure about 1,200 feet across and depict humans, birds, killer orca whales, cats, and snakes. Scientists estimate they were created between 100 B.C.E. and 300 C.E. You can learn more about the discovery, and see more images, here.

Nazca Lines in Peru depicting hummingbird, Creative Commons.

Your web resource: The Student Portal

The College's Student Portal webpage provides links to some of the most-needed information. You can find this link to the Student Portal at the very bottom right corner of the homepage at PCAD.edu.

There, you'll find official College dates, such as holidays; class times; research links; links to academic support and counseling help, current Covid-19 policies, and much more.

Pennsylvania College of Art & Design
204 North Prince St. Lancaster, PA 17603 717.396.7833

Share this email:

Manage your preferences | Opt out using TrueRemove®

Got this as a forward? Sign up to receive our future emails.

View this email online.

204 North Prince Street
Lancaster, PA | 17603 US

This email was sent to .

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Subscribe to our email list.

