New faculty/staff: ALICE training due Friday

New faculty and staff: Last Monday, Sept. 9, you were emailed directions for completing ALICE training. This active shooter response training is a crucial part of the College's overall safety plan, and it is important that you complete this training by the deadline: this Friday, Sept. 20.

If you have any questions about the process, please reach out to Dan Freiler, Director of Physical Plant, at dfreiler@pcad.edu.

Provost Massey serves on arts future panel

Provost Carissa Massey earlier this month served on a forum panel of the Hourglass Foundation on the Future of the Arts in Lancaster County. Through forums and publications, the foundation works to inform the public on key quality of life areas in the region, and works with Lancaster County leaders to empower them to make informed decisions. Massey spoke of the strength that results from homegrown creatives flourishing in a community, and the strength of the College itself. You can learn more about the foundation and find a recording of the panel here.

Time-management workshop held Thursday

A workshop on time management might just be the thing to get your students successfully through the semester! This Thursday, please encourage them to come to the Learning Commons (Room 214) at 11:30 am for a session with a focus on college assignments and PCA&D schedules. They'll follow along and learn about their own task priority/hierarchy while finding time to enjoy hobbies and to complete projects on time. This workshop also serves as an overview of digital and analog task- and time-tracking tools that can help them organize time in an adaptable way. Led by Joanna Becker '21, Illustration.

- Figure out their task hierarchy
- Learn different time-management methods
- Break down assignments into sections
- Discover ways to maximize efficiency

SNAAP research fellowships are open to apply

SNAAP, the Strategic National Arts Alumni Project, invites proposals from scholars and researchers to develop and conduct new research using information in the 2022 SNAAP database of arts alumni and be named SNAAP Research Fellows. The application/proposal deadline is Sept. 30, and individuals or teams of researchers may apply. SNAAP wants to continue building a broad community of researchers and scholars who draw on the extensive SNAAP data to inform their work on the value of an arts education and the creative economy. Fellowships are worth $5,000. Go here to view more background, requirements, eligibility, expectations, and apply.

Work by Karim Gavins '20 in the Main Gallery

The Main Gallery at PCA&D is proud to welcome visitors to Finding Karim, the work of 2023-2024 Fine Artist in Residence Karim Gavins '20, Photography & Video, through Oct. 4. The show consists of mixed media installation, primarily fabric, archival digital prints, and drawing. A public reception will be held during Sept. 6 First Friday celebrations from 5-8 pm.

PCA&D offers an Alumni Artist in Residence program in which the participating artist then has an exhibition on the College campus; Gavins completed his residency in May. "The opportunity to present the work of Gavins is exciting," says Director of Exhibitions Alex Schaufele. "It connects our students more closely to a dynamic alumnus and him to the larger community. It also is a style of exhibition that we haven't done recently at PCA&D -- a full-scale immersive installation in multiple levels of the gallery."

"Stretch Mark," by Rachel Yinger '14, Fine Art.

Final week: Re Union, Rachel Yinger '14

Throughout the academic year, the Hayden Student Exhibition Space next to the Atrium hosts exhibitions curated by alumni guest jurors. PCA&D is proud to present the work of Rachel Yinger '14, one of the 2023-2024 jurors, in her exhibition Re Union, through Sept. 20.

A collection of Yinger's work from the past 10 years, Re Union also reflects Yinger's theme of "titling works with a compound word separated into two words, hence the separation of 'reunion.'"

A visual artist and curator, Yinger received her BFA in Fine Art from PCA&D in 2014, and an MFA in Socially Engaged Student Art from Moore College of Art & Design in 2018. She works in painting, drawing, printmaking, zine-making, and installation, and primarily creates large paintings and zines exploring themes of gender and sexuality. You can find her on campus as the Program Coordinator for Pre-College & Adult Enrichment in the Center for Creative Exploration and you can check out more of her work on Instagram (@rachel.yinger.art) or at rachelyinger.com.

Fall CCE classes are released! Don't forget discounts and community scholarships

Faculty and staff: The Fall slate of classes and workshops offered by the College's Center for Creative Exploration has been posted! You can request your employee benefit for discounted Center for Creative Exploration classes for yourself as well as for your children or spouses. Email ce@pcad.edu to let them know the class or workshop you're interested in and they can work with you to get you a special code. Also, as educators, you can request scholarships for students in grades 1-12 for CCE classes. If you know a student in our community who would benefit, head here and complete the request form. Questions? Email ce@pcad.edu.

Hear of gig work, part-time or full-time jobs for students and alumni? Let Career Services know

Help fill our Student Portal Job Boards with opportunities for our students and alumni. They can range from gig work to part-time, and even some full-time jobs.

There is a high demand for work opportunities among our student body in both the creative and non-creative sectors.

If you hear any great opportunities please pass them along to the Career Services Team at CareerServices@pcad.edu so we can connect our students to employment opportunities.
